Boyle Fredrickson Named to 2009 MMAC's "FUTURE 50"

Third Straight Year that Wisconsin's Largest IP Law Firm Listed Among Region's Fastest Growing Businesses

MILWAUKEE – Boyle Fredrickson, Wisconsin's largest intellectual property law firm, has been named to the "Future 50" by the Metropolitan Milwaukee Association of Commerce (MMAC). "Future 50" is the leading business organization's annual list of the fastest growing companies in southeast Wisconsin. Boyle Fredrickson was also listed as one of only 10 businesses to have won the award for three consecutive years.

"We have grown steadily since our founding 10 years ago and are appreciative of MMAC for this recognition of our success," said Boyle Fredrickson President Peter Stomma. "We are privileged to have been listed alongside some of the region's most progressive companies and to have been honored by an organization that does so much to promote the economic well-being of our region."

"We share MMAC's commitment to this region and the state of Wisconsin," said Stomma. "Boyle Fredrickson takes great pride in helping our many Wisconsin-based clients protect their ideas and capitalize on their innovations. We are also proud to actively support many of the area's important legal, business and charitable organizations."
